ABOUT: API SUMMIT 2026

17TH ANNUAL API | AFRICA PROPERTY INVESTMENT SUMMIT

Held on 17 & 18 September 2026 at the Cape Town International Convention Centre (CTICC), the 17th Annual API Summit marked our most ambitious gathering to date. With expanded exhibition zones, additional meeting rooms, and new sub-sector forums, the 2026 event delivered a powerful platform for continental collaboration and institutional dealmaking.

Across two days, over 633 C-suite investors, developers, lenders, and market pioneers representing 30 countries convened across our main stage and co-located sub-forums - including the Africa Proptech Forum, API Multifamily Forum, and API Hospitality & Residences Forum. Featuring more than 140 industry-leading speakers, deal rooms, the Closing Cocktail Reception, and the milestone 10th Annual API Summit Awards Gala.

The #APISummit2026 reaffirmed its place at the center of African real estate investment and development conversations.

ENGINEERING A NEWER AND MORE REFINED EXPERIENCE

In 2026, our dynamic floor-plan created a magnetic experience for buiness development and networking. In 2027, we've already re-engineering the venue layout by doubling the space, separate rooms for crystal clear audio and more dedicated spaces to ensure a dynamic experience.

Passes for API Summit 2027 are officially live! Secure your Super Early Bird ticket today - valid strictly until 30 November 2026 (please note: payment must reflect in our account by 30 November 2026 to lock in this special rate, after which passes revert to standard pricing).

THEME TRACKS & AGENDA HIGHLIGHTS

17TH ANNUAL API | AFRICA PROPERTY INVESTMENT SUMMIT

CAPITAL & FINANCING

- Continental outlook and deal flow: Broll's Real Estate Intelligence Report 2026, the biggest recent transactions and exits, and JLL's report on direct deals above US$1 million showed where capital is going and how deals are structured.
- Equity capital and family offices: Panels on private equity, institutional allocators and regional capital, and on why family offices with local fluency are driving development and attracting acquirers.
- Pension funds as co-developers: Pension funds are moving from passive allocators to active co-developers, with inflation-tracking structures and co-investment frameworks built to pass conservative investment committees.
- Francophone and East African regional focus.

MULTIFAMILY & ASSET CLASSES

- South African multifamily capital and policy: The conditions for institutional capital to deploy into multifamily at scale, and on the policy, development finance and planning reforms enabling affordable delivery.
- Multifamily operations: The management disciplines, operating standards and technology that separate high-performing portfolios from average ones.
- Urban design and mixed-use: Planning for fast-growing cities, alongside leading retail- and residential-anchored precinct models.
- Commercial: How flight to quality, flex space, the BPO boom and green buildings are defining African office demand.
- Alternatives and data centres: Data centres, healthcare-anchored property and other asset classes delivering institutional-grade returns.
- Logistics and precinct governance: Serviced last-mile space for SMEs and e-commerce.

THEME TRACKS & AGENDA HIGHLIGHTS

17TH ANNUAL API
AFRICA PROPERTY INVESTMENT SUMMIT

HOSPITALITY

- Where hospitality deals are getting done: Comparing the regulatory improvements, investment conditions and ease of access across Africa's key tourism and hospitality hotspots.
- Luxury, residences and wellness: Branded residences, experiential concepts and wellness-led developments.
- Brand and loyalty: How established brands and loyalty programmes help global operators enter new African locations, models and sectors.
- Eco-tourism and destination development: The eco-tourism pipeline, sustainability, and aligning state priorities with private tourism investment.

PROPTECH

- Why proptech fails in Africa — and what works instead: Building proptech for Africa's unique circumstances.
- AI that delivers: Separating the AI tools producing operational and investment-analysis returns today from the hype.
- Smart buildings and security: Biometrics, cameras, IoT, systems integration on tough sub-Saharan sites, and smart-city progress, with the cybersecurity risks that come with them.
- Residential and hospitality tech: Smart-home systems, co-living, digital letting and payments, tenant management, and hospitality proptech innovations.
- Energy efficiency: What the data shows about savings from energy management software and renewables.

CASE STUDIES & SHOWCASES

- Going private: Balwin's Steve Brookes and the PIC's Malusi Mthuli on the landmark Balwin/GEPF and PIC transaction.
- REITs showcase: African REITs and capital partners on listed property performance, portfolio composition, distribution record and strategic direction.
- Flagship precinct and destination developments: The V&A Waterfront's 15-year masterplan, and Liyongo's values-led partnership model on Zanzibar's north coast.
- Wheeling at scale: Growthpoint and Etana Energy's pooled renewable electricity model for commercial property.

PUBLIC RELATIONS
INSIGHTS 2026

17TH ANNUAL API
AFRICA PROPERTY INVESTMENT SUMMIT

The campaign behind the 17th Annual API Summit produced a concentrated run of earned coverage across newswire, trade press, national print, broadcast, social media and trade partner features. The single largest driver was the 21 July release of "$2.1 Billion and Counting: African Real Estate Is Executing," which anchored 250 website pick-ups and carried the campaign onto Bloomberg Terminal, Thomson Reuters, Dow Jones Factiva and LexisNexis. Further significant coverage ahead of and during the event was gained through API Events' APO and Bizommunity press offices, media partnerships with online publications Property Wheel and Property Flash, property influencer Ash Muller of Ask Ash, the "Another Brick in the Wall" podcast and attending media.

Ask Ash produced a full-page Mail & Guardian feature - and a LinkedIn newsletter cross-post - building on the Broll Africa Real Estate Intelligence Report 2026. Broll's role as the official Data & Insights Partner for the event added significant impetus to pan-African media reach.

Several initiatives were launched and covered by key participants at the event, including Growthpoint Properties' SmartLease launch and the launch of Aleph Hospitality's South Africa Office.

Broadcast placements were achieved on Moneyweb and "Another Brick in the Wall".

Two Real Estate Investor features were filed from the show floor, covering the Balwin/PIC take-private deal and the Broll report. On LinkedIn, the API Events page grew to 10,177 followers in the 90-day period leading up to the conference, a 299.2% increase on the prior period, with reactions up 139.2%, led by speaker, agenda, and session announcements and videos.

Property Wheel's campaign, run as a Summit media partner across Newsletter, LinkedIn, Facebook, and X, carried a 327,451 combined reach and 2,022 engagements across 20 recurring newsletter editions and 36 dedicated Summit posts and articles.

Real estate experts converge on API Summit in Cape Town

CAPE TOWN, SOUTH AFRICA

The API Summit, which is the most important real estate conference in Africa, will take place this week in Cape Town, as an assortment of skilled people from across the continent meet to discuss how to make property and its related industries thrive across the continent.

Now in its 17th year, the Africa Property Investment (API) Summit has evolved and become essential to attend for people who work in property or in a supporting industry. Wayne Troughton explains that the summit has realised and it offers three key values to attendees.

The summit includes main plenary sessions, the hospitality and residences forum, the Africa proptech forum, and, for the first time, the multifamily forum. These discussion sessions and forums offer a great variety of content to visitors.

The main API Summit plenary sessions — These core sessions cover the broader real estate investment landscape across Africa, including capital flows, market trends and cross-border investment strategy.

The Africa Proptech Forum – Taking place on 18 September, the forum explores how technology and AI are integrated into the real estate value chain across property asset classes. Proptech enhances property management and returns and is critical to the future success of the real estate industry.

The API Hospitality Forum – Taking place on 17 September, the forum is focused on the specifics of hotel, lodge and other hospitality type development and investment. This is a segment of the market that has its own capital structures, operator relationships, and development timelines and performance sensitivity distinct from commercial or residential real estate.

$2.1 BILLION AND COUNTING: AFRICAN REAL ESTATE IS EXECUTING

22 Jul 2026 · By PropertyWheel_G · 5 min read

Ahead of the 17th Africa Property Investment (API) Summit in Cape Town, investment pipelines are converting into a record number of transactions as the continent's real estate and hospitality sectors move from potential into real momentum.

Verified data gathered from across Africa's real estate investment landscape reveals that the continent's leading property and hospitality role players completed more than $2.1 billion worth of transactions over the past 18 months, representing one of the most concentrated periods of institutional real estate deal activity in the continent's history.

First Multifamily Forum in API Summit's 17-year history signals the sector's arrival

In South Africa, stabilised multifamily real estate portfolios are posting occupancies above 95%. Yet, across Africa, the upside offered by the surging asset class has barely been tapped by institutional investors. On 18 September at the Cape Town International Convention Centre, the API Summit's inaugural Multifamily Forum – held in partnership with the Southern African Multifamily Residential Rental Association (SAAMRA) – explores the sheer scope of the opportunity, and how investors can take advantage of it.

SETTING AFRICA'S AGENDA

African real estate isn't moving on sentiment - it moves on capital, data, and the face-to-face conversations that shape the continent's most consequential deals.

The #APISummit2026 is where it all happens and the decisions are made and winners are recognised. Over two days in Cape Town, get insights from the leaders allocating capital, running REITs, building hospitality pipelines, and driving the continent's noteworthy transactions and future growth. Join over 600+ industry leaders, from 30+ countries, at the CTICC in Cape Town on 17 & 18 September.

This year's programme covers four key tracks: Real Estate Investment, Development & Capital; Hospitality Development; Proptech & AI Innovation, and the rapidly expanding Multi-Family sector.

Featuring more speakers than ever before from some of the continent's leading firms, this year's #APISummit is our biggest, boldest and most impactful yet.

Driving Yield, NOI & Technological Transformation

Headed by continental trailblazers and successful tech powerhouses, the Africa Proptech Forum showcases the innovations that are reshaping how physical assets are built, managed, and valued.

From AI-driven automated underwriting and geospatial market intelligence to smart building energy management systems that cut OPEX, technology is no longer just an administrative tool; it is a core driver of net operating income (NOI) and portfolio valuation across the continent.

YOUR COMPETITORS ARE ALREADY WRITING THEIR ACCEPTANCE SPEECHES...

Let's be honest. Your team worked incredibly hard this year. You broke ground, solved impossible problems, and basically kept the African real estate engine running.

So why haven't you entered the 2026 API Summit Awards yet?

This is your official, slightly loud tap on the shoulder: the final deadline to submit your nominations is 31 July 2026. We've made the process incredibly simple. No endless essay writing required, just your best metrics, your standout project photos, and a bit of well-deserved bragging.
